Policy dispute delaying road network project

By Christine A. Gaykiran

A P2.8-BILLION road network project that seeks to decongest Manila's main thoroughfares is facing a major setback after the Metropolitan Manila Development Authority (MMDA) refused to support its implementation.

The Metro Manila Interchange Construction Project, now on its fifth phase, is being delayed due to policy differences with officials of the MMDA. The project is funded by the Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC).

The project, co-implemented with the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH), aims to unclog the busy intersections of North and West Avenues, and Roosevelt Avenue on Edsa.

It also seeks to give easier access to vehicles from Pasig City going to Makati City, using C-5 Road.

JBIC's country representative Mayumi Endoh and country manager Floro Adviento admitted in a press briefing that the interchange project, under which majority of the flyovers and underpasses along Edsa were put up, has not moved for close to three years now.

Weak coordination

"There has been weak coordination between the DPWH and the MMDA. We are encountering delays due to the lack of support from the MMDA for the continued implementation of the project," Endoh said.

Endoh noted policy differences with the MMDA since Chair Bayani Fernando took over in 2002.

Fernando said in a separate interview that the agency has a different road plan, which he refused to elaborate over the phone.

The MMDA over the past few years has been working on a mix of traffic solutions that include removing road and sidewalk obstruction, replacing intersections with U-turn slots and pedestrian lanes with footbridges.

The MMDA said the road reformation program it had been implementing has led to faster travel time.

Kalayaan problem

Also, travel time from Pasig to Makati through C-5 is currently only being hampered by poor traffic management at the Kalayaan Avenue intersection, which is being handled by the local government.

Endoh said the agency would soon discuss with the DPWH and the National Economic and Development Authority whether the project would be redesigned or canceled.

Adviento said other projects that may be reconsidered due to coordination problems were those along España, Manila, and E. Rodriguez Avenue in Quezon City.

Under JBIC's Metro Manila Interchange Construction Project, high-density traffic due to rapid population growth has been eased with the construction of flyover or underpass interchanges: Edsa/Magallanes; Edsa/Ayala Avenue/Farmy Road; Edsa/Bonifacio Avenue; Edsa/Shaw Boulevard; Edsa/Aurora Boulevard, Cubao, and Edsa/Quezon Boulevard.

Fire-hit school to hold regular classes in tents

DESPITE a fire that gutted its building Friday, regular classes will be held starting Tuesday at the Tinajeros National High School in Malabon City.

There would be no disruption of classes, even if books for distribution and lesson plans were destroyed, said school principal Fortunado Pascual.

"Classes will continue in the school's quadrangle, and students would be divided into three shifts so as not to disrupt the lessons," Pascual said.

He added that the more than 1,000 students would hold classes in tents and sit on monobloc chairs to be provided by the local government while a new building was constructed.

The local government and the Department of Education have promised to fund a replacement building.

Figure 1 consists of three panels, A, B, and C, each showing a line graph of Log₁₀ CFU/ml versus Time (h) for E. coli growth at four temperatures: 10 °C, 20 °C, 30 °C, and 40 °C. The y-axis for all panels ranges from 0 to 10. The x-axis for all panels ranges from 0 to 10 hours. Panel A shows growth curves for E. coli strain 1. Panel B shows growth curves for E. coli strain 2. Panel C shows growth curves for E. coli strain 3. In all panels, growth is highest at 30 °C and lowest at 10 °C. The growth curves are sigmoidal, with the 30 °C curve reaching a plateau around 8.5 Log₁₀ CFU/ml and the 10 °C curve remaining near 0 Log₁₀ CFU/ml.

Expert warns of pests in China veggies

LAURENCE L. BURGESS The presence of some common pests in the Philippines has been confirmed by a team of experts from the United States and China. The team, led by Burgess, a senior research scientist at the United States Department of Agriculture, arrived in Manila last week to begin a two-week study of the country's vegetable production. Burgess said the team will be looking for signs of pests that are common in China but not in the Philippines. He said the team will also be looking for signs of pests that are common in the Philippines but not in China.

Rock of history and pride

By David Thompson

That it was not easily won is the legend in a sentence and only in the three centuries that the nation grew, the site on the sea has scarcely been mentioned, and that those who lived there in the 17th century were not high profile figures but mostly men from the sea.

Now up to 100,000 people visit the island each year, and it is one of the most popular places in the world. It is a place of history and pride, and it is a place of the sea.

Legend of the sea is the story of the island's history, and it is a story of the sea. The island is a place of history and pride, and it is a place of the sea.

It's not a new idea, but it's a new twist on an old idea: the idea of a "good" or "bad" day. The idea is to track your mood and energy levels over a period of time, and then use that information to make decisions about your life. It's a simple idea, but it's one that can be very powerful. In this article, we'll explore the benefits of tracking your mood and energy levels, and we'll provide some tips on how to do it.

The authors of Chlorophylla disagree on what the data actually show. They conclude that there is no significant difference in the frequency of these chlorophyllous organisms. Chlorophylla is a French, two-volume book by a team of French scientists, of which the translation of Chlorophylla has been completed and the authors' names listed on the inside back cover of the book.

There has been a growing concern in the community about the increasing number of people who are taking drugs and alcohol together. This is a dangerous combination and can lead to serious health problems. It is important to be aware of the risks and to seek help if you are struggling with substance use.
